Miss Wareham for 1968

Miss Wareham 1968 this year is the vivacious, sparkling, brown-eyed brunette, Donna June Desjardins of 7 Morse Manor, Wareham. She is a true native of Wareham, having been born at Tobey Hospital, attended all the Wareham Schools and a 1967 graduate of Wareham High School. She is presently employed at the Wareham Telephone Exchange. Donna is also a recent June graduate from Chandler School for Women and will pursue a public relations career in the future.

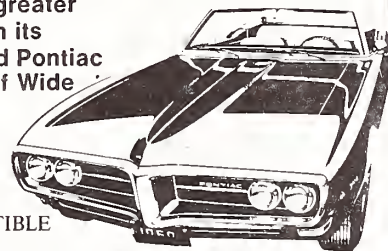

Representing the Greater Wareham area, Donna will be in Talent Competition tonight and Evening Gown and Swimsuit Competition on Friday night as her part of the preliminary competition. Week-long activities preceding these preliminary nights have included a formal ball, gala parade, banquets; plus those long enduring rehearsal days. No time is spent relaxing, since 29 of the most talented, year's Miss Massachusetts Scholarship Pageant will be televised in color on the final night, Saturday, July 27th.

In order to prepare herself for the State Pageant competition, Donna has been "working" every day since winning the Miss Wareham title. At least 2 hours each day are spent rehearsing her talent, as well as exercises, trips to the beauty salon for the right hair style, make-up instructions, while also keeping up her appearances at functions on behalf of her local sponsor, the Wareham Chamber of Commerce. Donna will present a three-part dance medley for her talent presentation which will include the Cha-Cha, Hula and the Charleston. While preparing

WHAT DOES HISTAMINE MEAN?

In recent years "antihistamine" has become a household word. Antihistamine preparations have found their way into the family medicine cabinet alongside bandages and aspirin, bicarbonate of soda and anti-septics.

But despite the wide acceptance of antihistamine medications, the meaning of the word "histamine" remains obscure. We use the word "antihistamine" so freely, it sounds as if we know what it means.

Let's make a new start by defining "histamine."

Histamine is the substance that convinces the boss that you have a heavy cold and should be home and in bed, since it produces your red and runny nose.

Histamine is the substance that causes a hay fever victim to turn into a picture of misery due to his watering eyes and stopped up nasal passages.

Histamine is found in all animal tissue. Exactly how this chemical substance is freed from the cells containing it is not clear, although it is known that one release mechanism is triggered by allergen-antibody conflict.

Histamine can kill you. In response to severe shock, it can cause general dilation of blood vessels with subsequent drop in blood pressure. Extreme cases of shock - called anaphylactic - can be fatal.

In dilating small blood vessels, histamine causes local reddening (as in a reddened nose during a common cold, a red wheal at the site of a mosquito bite), and can also cause contraction of smooth muscles.

Now for antihistamines:

Antihistamines are chemical substances that have an action especially antagonistic to histamine. They counteract the histamine effect.

Colds, hay fever, and other allergies are not fought with antihistamines alone these days. But, while they do not prevent or cure the disorder, they are important in relieving discomforts and miseries they cause. Among the antihistamine compounds that have taken a leading role in providing decongestion and relief from cold and hay fever symptoms are the Novahistine antihistamine products of the Pitman-Moore Division, The Dow Chemical Company.

Novahistine products permit the patient to breathe freely. They check formation of excessive irritant secretions. Sneezing and nose blowing, which often spread infection into the middle ear and sinuses, are minimized, and mouth breathing, which dries out and devitalizes the covering of throat and larynx, is prevented.

Everyone knows about antihistamines. Now you know what histamine is.

Office services, the following will be in effect at the Mattapoisett Post Office as of July 27, 1968:

All Saturday window service will be discontinued. Box lobby will remain open from 8:00 A.M. to 3:00 P.M. General delivery mail will be available between the hours of 9:00 to 11:00 A.M. All mail deposited in the Post Office or in the outside box on Saturday up to 3:00 P.M. will be dispatched. No change will be made in the Saturday rural route delivery. All other services, Monday through Friday, will remain as at present.

Rochester Woman's Club

After strolling along the gorgeous beach, intriguing stone cliffs and attractive grounds around Mrs. Margaret Benner's charming cottage at South Dartmouth, 27 members and guests of Rochester Woman's Club were served a delectable covered dish supper. At the conclusion of a delightful social evening, a short business meeting was held. Letters of thanks from Miss Deborah Hartley and Allan Maccarone for scholarship awards given them by the club were acknowledged. Mrs. Clarence Perry, president, who presided at the meeting, announced a meeting of the program committee had been held and that the program for next year was pretty well lined up. Mrs. Perry thanks chairmen, hostesses and committees who have worked and are working on club projects.

Mrs. Greenwood Hartley, Sr. invited members and guests to her cottage August 8th. August 19th was set as the date for the bric-a-brac auction held annually at the Woman's Clubhouse, Rochester.

WORLD'S ONLY STONE ORGAN

Luray Caverns of northern Virginia, the largest and most popular cave in the East, has the world's only stone-playing organ—The Great Stalacpipe Organ—which fills the "Cathedral" room with music by tapping natural stone formations with tiny electric hammers. The "fried egg" formations in the cave are actually the beginnings of stalagmites—limestone columns growing from the cave floor.

DONORS FROM A DISTANCE AID

MINERVA M. SPARROW MEMORIAL FUND

Word of the Minerva M. Sparrow Memorial Fund has reached as far as California. This was evidenced in the recent arrival of donations from two members of the Atsatt family, one residing in Pasadena and one in Los Angeles, so reports Miss Lydia LeB. Walker, chairman of the Fund. Miss Sparrow's mother was an Atsatt by birth. The cousins heard from were Miss Marjory and Miss Mary Atsatt. Donors from such a distance seem to deserve special mention. Incidentally, a correction in the first name of the late Miss Sparrow's father as published earlier is made. The name should have appeared as William and not Walter.

A sum approaching $250.00 is the total to date for the Minerva M. Sparrow Memorial Fund, with opportunity still offered for contributions to be received by Miss Lydia LeB. Walker, P. O. Box 172, Mattapoisett. All donations have been freewill gifts, with no personal solicitation of individuals. Later announcement will be given of the distinctive architectural feature that has application to the Carriage Shed, now under construction as part of the Mattapoisett Historical Society, which has found approval for the fund when completed. Those having expressed a desire to contribute are urged to send their gift as soon as possible to the chairman, Miss Lydia Walker, before the Fund is closed.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE ON CONSERVATION

A Tufts University professor will present an illustrated lecture on conservation in a special program at 8 P.M. Wednesday, July 31st, at Old Rochester Regional High School. The program is being co-sponsored by the Conservation Commissions of Rochester, Marion and Mattapoisett.

Prof. Norton H. Nickerson, a professor of biology, is also a member of the Dennis Conservation Commission, a director of the Massachusetts Association of Conservation Commissions and a trustee of the Cape Cod Museum of Natural History.

He is a member of one of the most active conservation commissions in the state. Dennis won an Audubon A for action at its 1968 annual town meeting by appropriating $650,000 for a 1,310-acre green belt in that town.

Members of the sponsoring commissions also are planning to set up several displays

Now is the ideal time to blast crabgrass!

This time of year crabgrass seeds are ripening by the millions. In a few weeks they'll be dropping to lay the foundation for an even bigger crop next year.

That's why it's wise to hit crabgrass right now with Scotts famous CLOUT. One application makes it curl and wither without damaging good grass. A second application one week later polishes crabgrass off completely — before it drops its seeds. So don't wait, get CLOUT this weekend at a nice savings.

The Odd Couple

COMEDY IS SIMPLY GREAT

Ted Babbitt and Larry Brooks found a home in a very funny play last week at the Marion Art Center. Ted played the part of the slob and Larry played Mr. Clean and the battle of the opposites provided some of the best entertainment ever seen on the stage of the talented Art Center players. The play was "The Odd Couple" by Neil Simon and directed by Lawrence Lamarre. The play took place under conditions of absolute realism as the steam bath of last week recreated the conditions as set forth in the program - "a hot summer night". The players proved their stamina as well as their talent as they steamed through the play to the accompaniment of constant laughter.

The set was beautifully done. It represented a New York apartment and did so in every detail. The mirror in the hall and the cabinets in the kitchen were touches of detail that created the illusion of great space on a small stage. The arranging of the cigarette butts, dirty socks, empty glasses and beer cans was done so naturally that they seemed to be right at home. This play was a workout for the stage crew and required a major housecleaning following Act I.

The principals developed their characters very deftly. They obtained the maximum fun out of the very funny lines. Gail Swain and Joan Prescott did a great supporting job with the Pigeon sisters and their accents were as deliverable as the British swingers which they created.

The plot concerns two married men whose wives have left them. They decide to live together in the apartment of Oscar Madison (Ted Babbitt). This apartment has returned to a wild state of disarray in the months of bachelorhood. Into this casual setting comes Felix Ungar (Larry Brooks), a compulsive cleaner. Suddenly, everything becomes super clean. Ash trays are wiped after every ash is deposited and Oscar Madison begins to crack under the strain. Poker sessions become tea parties, and a date Oscar sets up with the swinging Pigeon sisters dissolves into tears as Felix Ungar shows pictures of his lost family while Oscar has stepped to the kitchen to mix the drinks.

The play ends as it starts with a poker

JUNIOR ASSOCIATION

The young people of Crescent Beach have formed a Junior Association. Their aim is to raise enough money to purchase a diving board for the raft. At the first meeting of officers were chosen. Plans were discussed for the cake sale which took place July 21 and was a huge success. Members will work along with the Senior Association on a white elephant sale which will take place July 27. The money earned from this sale will be split evenly among the Junior and Senior Association.

Anyone who lives in Crescent Beach who would like to join this association should contact Mr. Charman.

RECEPTION HELD IN FAIRHAVEN

Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Morris of 124 North Street, Fitchburg, were guests of honor at an informal reception held at Fairhaven Grange Hall. Mr. Morris, a past master of Fairhaven Grange, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland L. Morris, Crystal Spring Road, Mattapoisett, and his wife, the former Miss Dianne Gregoire, is the daughter of Mrs. Pauline Gariepy Gregoire of Lowell, where the wedding took place on July 7th, a double wedding ceremony in which a sister, Doris, was united in marriage to Ronald L. Wentworth of Nashua, New Hampshire.

Among local persons attending the ceremony at Pawtucket Congregational Church in Lowell were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Westgate, Jr., Miss Anne and Timothy Westgate; Manuel S. Roderick, Jr., master of Fairhaven Grange, and Mrs. Roderick, Mrs. Helen Hathaway, Mrs. Helen Davis, Mrs. Elizabeth Davidson and Adam DePasqua; also, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Figueiredo, Mr. and Mrs. William Matthews, John Matthews and his fiancée, Miss Janet M. Mias, Mrs. Anthony Sylvia and Paul Sylvia of Mattapoisett.

Sp/4 Peter E. Morris, Paul's twin brother, flew up from Fort Benning, Ga. to attend his brother as best man. Among the ushers was Robert Moore of Mattapoisett. Following the ceremony the wedding buffet and reception was held at DeBurro's in Bradford and the couple left for a week in the Pocono's.

The local reception included a program of songs by the Fairhaven Grange chorus, vocal solo by Mrs. Mae Monette, square dancing

EDITORIAL

Mattapoisett's band concert nights are a long tradition of pleasant evenings for several generations of musicians and townspeople. The band's members love music and enjoy creating harmony for the enjoyment of others and their own satisfaction. They give their talent. Because of their generosity, the town has something special in the way of entertainment every Tuesday evening in the summer.

The band is appreciated. One week ago, more than 300 were enjoying the music on a perfect warm night.

The concert was spoiled.

Under the cover of darkness, a coward threw an egg. It was thrown full into the faces of the musicians and a tragic injury could have been inflicted. As it happened, the egg struck conductor, John Pandolfi, in the back. He immediately stopped the concert.

The pleasure of the musicians and the spectators was destroyed by one stupid person. This sneak must answer for dishonoring an entire town.

If he continues to escape detection, he will still have this fact to remember and

CAPSULE HISTORY

WHALES ATTACK THE "SEMINOLE" AND "ESSEX"

The attack on the steamship "Seminole" by a school of giant whales in the summer of 1896 is unique in marine annals.

Archives of the Atlantic Mutual Insurance Company recount the strange event.

The "Seminole", out of New York, met a school of whales near Sandy Hook. She struck and injured one of the giants—passengers swore some were 100 feet long—as it surfaced beneath her bow.

Then, notes Atlantic Mutual's records, "As if in a rage, the ... other whales drew off ... and dashed madly against the vessel, causing her to tremble from stem to stern."

Four times the whales repeated their charge. "At each collision the 'Seminole' quivered as if about to go to the bottom. Many ... passengers were hurled to the deck ... furniture ... was broken from its moorings."

Protected by her iron plating, the 2,600-ton "Seminole" outran the whales, and limped into Jacksonville on August 5 with "great dents in the plates on each side."

Stranger still was the earlier fate of the Nantucket sailing whaler "Essex", cruising the Pacific. Sighting whales at 8:00 A.M. on November 20, 1820, Captain Pollard ordered whaleboats lowered. Harpooning began on what started as a normal hunt.

Then from his post on deck, Mate Owen Chase suddenly saw an 85-foot leviathan first spout and then make for the "Essex" and ram her twice, staving in the bow. In ten minutes the "Essex" sank and a horror filled epic of survival began for the crew.

The crew of twenty crowded three frail open boats; they had few provisions and no charts. The nearest known land was more than 3,000 miles away. Endless days of despair, starvation, and suffering followed according to Atlantic Mutual. Storms separated the boats, one of them never to be seen again.

Captain Pollard was rescued with a single shipmate on February 23. With five comrades, Mate Chase was picked up after a 3,700-mile voyage.

The "Essex" tragedy, which was its inspiration, will long survive in Herman Melville's literary masterpiece, "Moby Dick."

YACHT CLUB RESULTS

On Wednesday, July 17th, the Mattapoisett Yacht Club held the first race in its evening series with competition scheduled in three classes.

However, due to the exceedingly light winds and threat of later thunder squalls, the boats in the Handicap class did not start out, and the race for the Corinthians was cancelled when the fleet didn't round the windward mark in time to finish within the 8:30 P.M. time limit.

The Beetle Cats sailed a course from the race committee boat anchored in mid-harbor to Gallatin Rock Black Can 3 and finish at the race committee boat.

Peter Briggs in Eeyore, starting a starboard tack, led the fleet during most of the first leg of the course, then fell behind the port tack boats, with H. Pentleton's Swamp Fox taking the lead, closely followed by Kathy Pieper's Blue Cloud. Just before rounding Gallatin Rock Black Can 3, the wind shifted from southeast to west, making the return leg a heat.

Harvey Pentleton's Swamp Fox was the winner. Kathy Pieper in Blue Cloud placed second and C. Ruel's Deborah was third.

In the first of the two Beetle Cat races the course was from the race committee boat to Barnard's Wharf MYC guide buoy, to Molly's Cove MYC guide buoy, to Mattapoisett Neck guide buoy, to Ned's Point MYC guide buoy and finish at the race committee boat in Molly's Cove.

Andy Anderson's Boat led the fleet throughout the race to finish first. During the first 2 legs of the course Michelle Roy, in Four Kings, was following closely until a broken mast forced her to withdraw, after rounding the Mattapoisett Neck marker. Her sister, Lorraine, in Melocodette II then moved into second place. Harvey Pentleton's Swamp Fox came in third.

The second Beetle Cat race was from the race committee boat to the Molly's Cove MYC guide marker, to Shining Tides MYC guide buoy and finish at race committee boat. Again Andy Anderson started in the lead, maintaining this position for the first half of the course. Then it became a see-saw contest between Andy Anderson's Boat and Harvey Pentleton's Swamp Fox, with the lead changing hands several times during the last half of the race. In a close finish, Swamp Fox crossed the finish line one boat's length ahead of Boat. The final tally read: Harvey Pentleton's Swamp Fox, first; Andy Anderson's Boat, second; Jimmy Barnes' Gay Lee
